Multiple simultaneous call list dialing

Features offered by Nixxis' outbound management include Multiple simultaneous Call List Dialing.

The outbound dialler can analyse all call lists and pass the communication to the appropriate agent with the appropriate script pop-up or agent interface.

The Nixxis outbound dialler can initiate the calls using following dialing modes:

- Manual Dialing
- Search mode
- Preview Dialing
- Progressive Dialing
- Power Dialing
- Restricted Power Dialing
- Predictive Dialing
- Call backs only
- Workflow
- Unattended

Key Benefits

- Multiple Dialling modes:
 - Manual
 - Search mode
 - Preview
 - Progressive
 - Restricted Power
 - Power
 - Predictive
 - Call-backs only
 - Unattended
- Value based dialing
- Multiple campaign allocation
- Multi-wave activities
- Intelligent call list management

Agents may participate in several simultaneous outbound campaigns.

This is certainly interesting when the end of call lists is reached and productivity is going down.

The outbound dialler can merge call lists and will pass the communication onto the appropriate agent with pop-up of script or other agent interface. This makes it possible to deal with all end of list call-backs while reaching the objectives without impacting the productivity.

Intelligent call list management

Nixxis does Profiling by using dynamic call list filtering in order to improve the efficiency of your outbound activities.

Global analysis and reporting

Call lists are not static files assigned to a specific calling activity. All activities of a business campaign use a common contacts file. The call lists use subsets of that contact file depending on defined criteria.

The notion of multi-wave campaigns allows other activities (inbound calls, emails, other outbound activities) to impact the status of the contact and create a condition by which that contact should be added or removed from the call list.

This global contact file allows combining activities resulting in a global analysis and reporting.
